<td>Trustee Posadas informed the Board of the following: (Status quo) The Patient Safety Program, policy no. A-PS800, was pending the Executive Management Council’s review and approval. Joint Commission representatives will hold a conference call on 07/16/18 to discuss the hospital’s appeal and final decision. The Board will be informed as soon as feedback is received, and will decide on how to share the information with the public. Trustee Posadas provided a summary of CMS findings as follows: There were 6 allegations that were determined to be non-substantive.</td>

</table>
• There was one allegation involving the credentialing process that was immediately corrected.
• There was one allegation regarding patient care that was abated.
• CMS found deficiencies related to the hospital’s Quality Assurance and Performance Improvement (QAPI) program, incident reporting, professional standards in radiology, maintenance of facility and equipment, discharge planning follow-through, anesthesia not being monitored through the QAPI program;
• With regard to QAPI, CMS found that 12 of 40 departments were not meeting QAPI requirements, and that executive responsibilities was a concern in that data was being collected but not analyzed.
• There was a patient safety related finding involving a patient in radiology.
• It was found that CRNA’s lacked a DEA license, but the issue had been corrected.
• There was a lack of nursing care plans for patients as discovered in the ICU.
• It was found that a physician applied for and was granted a certain privilege without having the necessary training.
• There were concerns with the administration of drugs and the reporting of transfusions and errors.
• Unsecured medications were found during a tracer. It was mentioned that the action plan was to separate supplies from medications on the carts and to lock the section where medications were stored. Daily audits will also be conducted.

- There were concerns with potentially infectious blood and blood products. It was noted that verbiage was included in the agreement with our blood supplier to address this finding.

- There were concerns with the hospital’s failure to maintain kitchen equipment and the physical plant. It was noted that waivers were requested for several findings related to the physical environment.

- As for the Skilled Nursing Unit, it was noted that most findings were related to the physical structure.

Trustee Lizama had disseminated a CMS Findings Committee Referrals and instructed all subcommittees to include the findings as part of their respective subcommittee agendas.

Trustee Lizama acknowledged the workload on the Compliance Office and requested for management to ensure that staffing support was provided.

C. Human Resources Subcommittee

Trustee Waibel informed the Board that a couple of position creations will be forthcoming for Board approval. The Clinical Case Manager and Foodservice Production Supervisor positions were critically needed and were both developed as a result of the CMS survey. Among the list of critical positions were also nurses and physicians.

With respect to the staffing pattern, it was noted... that 1,000 full-time positions existed, but of that amount only 955 were filled.

Trustee Waibel informed the Board that a physician had attended the last Human Resources subcommittee meeting and provided testimony with regard to the 2% differential for critical care nurses.

The physician praised the Board for approving the incentive as a pilot program and recommended the continuation with an increase, if possible.

Trustee Waibel noted that the Human Resources subcommittee supported the physician’s recommendation noting an increase to the percentage was not possible due to current funding challenges.

Other discussions:
Mr. Camacho informed the Board that the Office of Public Accountability’s (OPA) decision favored JMI Edison’s protest of the Invitation for Bid for the CT Scanners.

He explained that the OPA’s position was that the GMHA’s determination of JMI Edison’s bid as non-responsive was in error.

Mr. Camacho went over the bid analysis process and mentioned that decision at the time was based on recommendations provided by the radiology subject matter experts.

After thorough discussions the Board agreed that, given the condition of the existing CT scanners, it was in the best interest of the GMHA to cancel the bid and proceed with emergency procurement.

Mr. Camacho informed the Board that there was a potential for vendors to protest the cancellation, but that he would discuss the matter further with legal counsel.

Based in discussions at the Quality and Safety subcommittee meeting, it was mentioned that there was a downward trend of 98% to 97%. It wasn’t too concerning, however, the hospital’s goal was to ensure that all admissions are done appropriately. |

Trustee Posadas informed the Board that Dr. Adelaida Rosario, a native of Guam who holds a key position at the National Institutes of Health, presented at the conference and informed the attendees that there was funding to be accessed for minority health and health disparities.

Appeals court upholds APL's Guam service

The U.S. Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia has dismissed Matson Navigation's petition for a review of a decision by the Maritime Administration that allowed American President Lines to put two ships into service on the Guam route in competition with Matson.

Among the reasons cited by the court were Matson's failure to file a timely appeal.

In December 2014, APL asked the Maritime Administration for permission to put two of its ships out of service on the Guam route. Matson, who has been providing service on the route since 1947, challenged the plan.

The court ruled that since Matson had not filed a timely appeal, it was too late to challenge the decision.

If they could place those two older vessels in service on the Guam route, the Maritime Administration agreed and APL Guam went into service in 2016, followed by APL Salapan in 2017.

Although APL filed its petition for review until June 2, 2017 – more than a year after the administration's decision and long after the 60-day period set in the Hobbs Act for seeking a review, the court said, Matson also argued that APL Guam and APL Salapan "did not meet the statutory requirements for 'replacement vessels,'" and that APL was "distorting the market and creating an unlevel playing field in service to Guam."

However, the court concluded that Matson "lacked standing to appeal" because they are not a "MSP contractor." The court also ruled that "the APL replacement vessels provide transportation in mixed foreign commerce and domestic trade, thus complying with MSP law."

According to a report in the trade journal "American Shipper," Matson is reviewing the decision. The report also quotes an APL release, which states "although the court's decision leaves open the possibility that Matson could reassert at least part of its challenge in a different forum, nothing in the court's opinion provides any basis to think it would succeed. We remain confident that Matson's challenge to our MSP participation is completely lacking in merit at this point and we are confident that the courts have ruled."

Navy electrician awarded for assistance at crash scene

Pluss offered help Monday night in Anigua

By John O'Connor
john@postguam.com

 Petty Officer 2nd Class Andrew Pluss was traveling down Marine Corps Drive on Monday night when he happened upon a crash scene. On the ground was 55-year-old Klas Willy, who had been struck by a vehicle as he attempted to cross the road near the Bell Tower in Anigua.

"When I arrived up to him there was no breathing and at that point, my training kicked in with CPR," said the Navy electrician.

Willy had no pulse.

Pluss attempted to resuscitate him, drawing on his military training as an electrician’s mate. The 28-year-old from Denver, Colorado, continued trying to revive the pedestrian even as emergency personnel arrived to transport Willy to a hospital.

Vide of the scene

The Guam Daily Post obtained video of the incident from a witness.

Pluss is seen performing chest compressions as other bystanders assist him at the scene. Sirens are heard blaring in the background as Guam Fire Department emergency personnel arrive.

At the same time, bystanders talk with each other about how difficult it is to see anyone crossing the road.

"The only thing going on in my mind is, 'Don't stop until relieved by professionals,'" Pluss said. "When (responders) arrived I was about to do two more air breaths and one of the fire department personnel said, 'Keep going, keep doing compressions,' as he took out a breath bag."

Pluss had not seen the video until the Post showed it to him Wednesday.

Pedestrian dies

Willy died Monday night. An autopsy revealed that he had died of a crushed chest and broken back.

Pluss, after seeing the video and talking about his experience to media, said it was unfortunate he could not save the man’s life.

However, for his quick thinking and heroism, Pluss was awarded the Navy and Marine Corps Achievement Medal on Wednesday morning.

"That’s a pretty high-level award. Usually we reserve those for an end of tour, after completion of a two- to three-year tour. So we recognized him for his heroism and also his day-to-day performance," said Capt. Jeffrey Farah of the USS Frank Cable, where Pluss works in the repair department.

Fatal injuries

Klas Willy, 55, died Monday night after being struck by a vehicle. An autopsy revealed that he had died of a crushed chest and broken back.

Former principal charged with family violence

A former middle school principal has been arrested and charged with family violence and resisting arrest.

James Pettit placed a teen family member in reasonable fear of injury, the magistrate’s complaint states. Pettit was charged with resisting arrest. When police responded to a complaint from a Talofofo resident, the complaint states, Pettit started yelling at family members and punching and kicking a vehicle in the driveway as he was trying to leave with family members inside.

Struggle with police

He initially started to walk away when he was told he was under arrest, the complaint states. When an officer was trying to secure him into a police vehicle, the defendant attempted to pull away and a brief struggle ensued. Stated the complaint, filed July 18 in the Superior Court of Guam.

The two charges against the former Aguadilla Johnston Middle School principal are misdemeanors. (Daily Post Staff)

The charges

James Pettit was charged with family violence and resisting arrest, both as misdemeanors.
