She explained that the subcommittee members were tasked with comparing the verbiage in the applicable laws and Bylaws to ensure that they were not contradictory. So far, there have been no significant recommendations made; however, there may be a need to seek legislative amendments to certain sections of the mandates so that they are tailored in a way that is more suitable to the hospital’s needs and operations. The goal was to complete the primary reviews within the next three months.</td>

○ EEO Report: There were two sexual harassment complaints that were investigated and resolved/closed; a total of 158 interviews were conducted between Jan. to Apr. 2019.

Comments and recommendations taken from exit interviews resulted in an overall score of Good/Excellent. The hospital was commended for good teamwork, bonus & benefits, good morale, and great supervisors.

Low morale comments taken were ineffective communication, poor staffing, poor training and burn out.
Some strengths included excellent camaraderie; great skills trainings; frequent educational trainings, loyal staff, good healthcare benefits; good team work and close-knit supportive environment.

Some weakness included low wages/rates, no upward mobility, poor support from management, poor supervision; lack of incentives and recognition, limited leave.

Some recommendations made to improve retention were increase staffing to reduce burnout, increase salary with better benefits, flexible schedules, encourage mutual respect among physicians, provide training to address physician/professional bullying, and Ensure consistent, proper, and transparent communication from management to staff.

- Patient Safety Committee Dashboard results included 26 falls incidents (75% decrease from FY-2015 and 59% decrease from FY-2018). The units with the highest fall incidents were Med-Surg, Telemetry, Surgical and SNF occurring between the hours of 3-11 p.m., and were among patients between the ages of 50-70 years old.

The committee is currently monitoring wound care management and medication safety events.

There were 135 total elopements; an average length of time from ER sign-in to Triage of 32:51 and ER sign-in to Doctor of 54:27 (the target goal is 28:48 minutes).
The committee is focusing on “Sterilization of Surgical Instruments” for its Hospital Failure Mode Effects Analysis as recommended by the ECRI consultants.

Lastly, 40% of staff have been trained on the use of the Safety Learning System (SLS).

| F. Finance &amp; Audit | Trustee Evaristo presented Resolution 2019-36 for the Board’s approval. Discussion took place regarding the methodology used by the hospital to determine its fees for supplies and services. Ms. Manglona stated that cost, freight, and mark-up were also taken into consideration. Ms. Manglona informed the Board that the fiscal team will be looking at revising the pricing methodology, and addressing new room and board fees and non-revenue generating service areas. Discussions also took place regarding billing, collections, financial assistance available to self-pay patients, and the need to improve the collection of information from self-pay patients for better collection outcomes. Ms. Posadas mentioned that an option worth exploring was a sliding scale fee that provides variable prices for supplies and services rendered based on a patient's ability to pay. Trustee Evaristo motioned, and it was seconded by Trustee Dr. Um, to approve Resolution 2019-36 as printed. The motion carried with all ayes. Trustee Evaristo informed the Board that the Finance &amp; Audit subcommittee was in the process of developing a credit card policy that will eventually be routed to the Board of Trustees for approval. | Chair &amp; Vice-chair, Finance &amp; Audit Subcommittee | Updates to be reported at the next scheduled meeting. | Informational |

<td>On-call Pay</td>
<td>Trustee Evaristo informed the Board that the issue of On-call Pay was raised at the subcommittee level. It was noted that management was taking the necessary steps to address the matter, including, meeting with the Department of Labor and eventually with the affected departments. It was estimated that the hospital would save anywhere from $500 to $700K once a new policy on compensation is implemented.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Concerns regarding participation at Public Hearings</td>
<td>Trustee Evaristo informed the Board that the subcommittee discussed concerns in regard to the low participation from the community at the public hearings for new fees and services. He stated that the fiscal team was asked to ensure that every effort was made to notify and invite the community to attend these hearings. A suggestion was also made to reach out to the commercial insurers and ask for their reasons for not attending.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>First Amendment to Agreement for Professional Services btw. Law Offices of Minakshi V. Hemlani, P.C. and GMHA</td>
<td>Trustee Evaristo presented the First Amendment to Agreement for in-house legal services for approval. Several Trustees expressed their concerns with the delay in seeking the Board’s approval of this amendment that was first proposed in August 2018. It was noted that the past administration did not provide a memorandum to file to support the proposed revisions as requested by the former Chairman, Mr. Eloy Lizama. It was also noted that the financial impact was nominal, because the proposal was to change the hourly rate of pay with no change in the total amount budgeted for the year. After thorough discussions, Trustee Wai bel motioned, and it was seconded by Trustee Allen, to approve the First Amendment to Agreement for Professional Services btw. Law Offices of Minakshi V. Hemlani, P.C. and GMHA. The motion carried with all ayes.</td>

<tr>
<td>VI. MANAGEMENT’S REPORT</td>
<td>On behalf of the management team, Ms. Perez-Posadas reported the following:</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>------------------------</td>
<td>--------------------------------------------------------------------------</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>• There was a 20% increase in patient revenues.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>• As mentioned previously by the Chair of the Finance &amp; Audit Subcommittee, management is taking a deep dive into the On-call Pay policy.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>• There are ongoing challenges in regard to bed capacities, especially in the adult units. This situation results in holdings in the ER and ER diversions when at full capacity.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>• The Hospital has taken initiatives to hire staff departing from GRMC. So far, 5 registered nurses have been hired and there are around 6 potential candidates to fill the LPN vacancies.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>• On the agendas for the Executive Management Council and Quality &amp; Safety Subcommittee is the discussion on accreditation. One potential accrediting body is DNV Global.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>• There are as many as eight ICF-level of care patients occupying acute care beds which has been a long standing issue for the hospital. Efforts are being taken to transfer these patients to the SNF or Saint Dominic’s, but there are still obstacles like criteria and healthcare coverage requirements.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>• The hospital is meeting with management from the Department of Corrections and the Department of Revenue &amp; Taxation to address the outstanding payments owed to GMHA by DOC. There is a possibility that the amount owed to GMH could be off-set with the amount GMH owed for tax withholdings.</td>
</tr>
<tr>

funding was needed in order to move forward with an RFP. The Hospital will be working with the Chair of the Committee on Health on possible ways to fund this project.

Trustee Nededog recommended for the hospital to seek grants to fund a new EHR system or to piggy-back off of the CNMI for the system they are acquiring.

- $32M in Medicaid funding had already been distributed to the various health entities, including GRMC. A total of $12M has been recorded in Medicaid funding receipts, according to Ms. Manglona.

- The go-live date for the Pyxis system was extended due to the recent network issues experienced.

- A Human Resources Taskforce was developed to address the recruitment and other HR related challenges for the hospital.

- The hospital will be hiring an Assistant Administrator of Administrative Services to oversee the clinical EHR system project, among other assigned duties and responsibilities.

A. When any Allied Health Professional receives written notice from the Department Chairperson, Medical Executive Committee, or Administrator that will adversely affect that appointment or re-appointment and delineation of privileges, his or her hospital’s status or exercise of privileges, that individual shall be entitled to file an appeal. Certain elements of the Bylaws remain skewed with regard to AHPs, however, including a clear indication of voting rights and practitioner rights to fair hearing. Section 7.10 denies to AHPs the right to Fair Hearing as outlined for MDs/DOs. Section 7.10-1 outlines a completely separate grievance process for AHPs. Given their independent practice authority, eliminate Section 7.10-1 in its entirety, to read as proposed | government who performs the duty of guarding prisoners or supervising or counseling parolees, shall be entitled to hazardous pay, calculated at the rate of his or her regular wage, plus ten percent (10%), for all periods he or she is on such duty. The differential shall be applicable only during the time of exposure."

WHEREAS, the Department of Administration’s 1996 Personnel Rules and Regulations Appendix D (Hazardous/Environment Pay Policy) defines the parameters of hazardous pay and states, in relevant part, that “any employee of the government who performs the duty of guarding prisoners in transit, or is otherwise exposed to a life-threatening environment with respect to incarceration of prisoners shall be entitled to hazardous pay for all periods he or she is on such duty. The differential shall be applicable only during time of exposure.” (Emphasis added).

January 21, 2016, and attached herein (“OAG Opinion”), determined the allowance for hazardous pay under 4 G.C.A, Section 6222(a) and DOA rules for “those GMH health care employees whose base salaries do not reflect the inherent

GMHA to extend the 10% hazardous pay differential provided by Title 4 G.C.A, Section 6222(a) and DOA rules to all classified and unclassified employees of the GMHA while working at the Department of Corrections Mangilao and Hagatna prison and detainee facilities.

OPINION MEMORANDUM

TO: Director, Department of Corrections

FROM: Attorney General

SUBJECT: Hazardous Pay for Guam Memorial Hospital Employees Working at DOC Clinic

This office is in receipt of your letter dated January 14, 2016, in which you requested an opinion on the following issue:

REQUEST: Are Guam Memorial Hospital (GMH) employees entitled to hazardous pay while performing duties at the Department of Corrections (DOC) clinic?

ANSWER: Yes.

STATEMENT OF FACTS:

As a result of the Stipulated Judgment in the District Court case of United States v. Government of Guam, Guam District Court Civil Case No. 91-00020, DOC and GMH entered into a Consolidated Cooperative Agreement ("Agreement"), effective June 26, 2015, for the provision of health care services to the Department of Corrections' Clinic ("DOC Clinic"). Classified employees from GMH, such as registered nurses, LPNs, certified nurse assistants, ward clerks, clerks, medical records personnel, pharmacists, and pharmacy technicians have been performing medical duties at the DOC Clinic in conformity with efforts to assure full compliance with the Stipulated Judgment.

The DOC Clinic is housed in two locations under the control of DOC: the Mangilao and Agana facilities. Due to the nature of the medical services being provided (medical intake, health records, sick call, screening, etc.) and the size and layout of both facilities, GMH employees are in close proximity and often face-to-face with incarcerated inmates and detainees. Additionally,

1 The request addressed "non-contractual" employees, but upon further discussion with the agency, the intent of the request was to address primarily the classified staff of GMH. Classified employees from other agencies may also be called upon to perform services at the DOC Clinic; however, we have not been requested by those agencies to specifically address similar concerns. This opinion, therefore, is applicable only to the classified employees of the Guam Memorial Hospital.
employees are often called upon to administer medication, collect and respond to sick call requests, and to respond to medical emergencies at various residential posts and other areas within the prison and lock-up facilities.

The intent of the Agreement between DOC and GMH was to establish a fully operational medical clinic within the jurisdiction of the DOC that would comport with all standards for prisoner health care as required by the National Institute of Corrections and the National Commission on Correctional Health Care. Inter-governmental processes and procedures were established for the operation of a fully functioning correctional medicine outpatient clinic, never heretofore administered nor embodied within the GMH. As a result, GMH questioned the entitlement of its staff to hazardous pay, a benefit normally accruing to law enforcement work. GMH has declined, under funding provided pursuant to the Agreement, to compensate its nurses or on-call staff for work performed at the DOC Clinic without clear direction that hazardous pay is legally allowable.

DISCUSSION:

Title 4 G.C.A. § 6222(a) governs generally entitlement to hazardous pay as follows:

“A corrections officer or a parole officer or any employee of the government who performs the duty of guarding prisoners or supervising or counseling parolees, shall be entitled to hazardous pay, calculated at the rate of his or her regular wage, plus ten percent (10%), for all periods he or she is on such duty. The differential shall be applicable only during the time of exposure” (emphasis added).

Historically, hazardous pay was first recognized as compensation due for work solely involving the guarding of prisoners or for those positions requiring close proximity to prisoners or detainees. It was expanded by health statutes and personnel regulations to cover other forms of hazardous conditions related to dangerous environmental conditions and temporary exposure to life-threatening situations. For purposes of this opinion, we focus only on conditions related to the traditional role of government work done in proximity to inmates and detainees within a prison or jail setting, and more specifically, to the work of medical personnel from GMH working in a correctional health care clinic.²

With regard to hazardous pay related to the “guarding of prisoners” referred to in Section 6222(a), the Department of Administration’s (DOA) 1996 Personnel Rules and Regulations APPENDIX D (Hazardous/Environment Pay Policy) define the parameters of such pay in the following manner:

¹ This opinion does not apply to law enforcement personnel whose base pay incorporates the inherent hazardous nature of law enforcement work in the first instance, as well as recent across-the-board pay increases for all law enforcement positions within the government of Guam.
GUARDING OF PRISONERS
A Uniformed Officer or any employee of the government who performs the duty of guarding prisoners in transit, or is otherwise exposed to a life-threatening environment with respect to incarceration of prisoners shall be entitled to hazardous pay for all periods he or she is on such duty. The differential shall be applicable only during time of exposure (emphasis added).

The regulatory interpretation by DOA is consistent with the long history of defining the numerous situations where government employment involved work in close proximity to prisoners, whether or not it specifically involved guarding, security, or the supervision of prisoners. This interpretation permitted law enforcement agencies greater flexibility and usage of hazardous pay for purposes of compensating government employees who, by virtue of their proximity to prisoners, faced life-threatening conditions. Working at the DOC Mangilao and Agana prison and detainee facilities is inherently dangerous. Therefore, compensation to the class of positions providing medical care in prisons/jails must include compensation for the inherent danger associated with such duties and responsibilities, which differ greatly from the administration of medical care to the general population.

Throughout the United States, there are numerous accounts of nurses and medical personnel working alongside corrections officers in very violent, dangerous and stressful jail and prison work environments. Some recent examples include incidents of attacks on nurses at jails in Missouri’s Saginaw County, California (Costa County), and Mahoning County in Youngstown, Ohio. Injuries to nurses have also been reported in prison settings at Central Prison in North Carolina and Folsom State Prison in California.

Prison health care is an emerging, although not yet fully developed field, across the nation and on Guam. Compensation to address the hazards related to working within a prison/jail setting is necessarily unaccounted for within the normal base pay structure for health care professionals not otherwise employed full time by DOC. The allowance for hazardous pay under the statute and DOA rules provide special compensatory benefits to those GMH health care employees whose base salaries do not reflect the inherent dangers of working in a correctional setting, which is a highly dangerous environment.

CONCLUSION:

We support the sound definitions of hazardous conditions incorporated into DOA’s personnel regulations, and believe they are consistent and comport with the overall intent of the statutes and the history of hazardous pay compensation within a correctional system. It is therefore our opinion that under 4 G.C.A. § 6222(a) and DOA’s Personnel Rules and Regulations, classified employees of GMH including registered nurses, LPNs, certified nurse assistants, health administrators, ward clerks, clerks, medical records personnel, pharmacists, and pharmacy technicians are entitled to the payment of hazardous pay at the rate of ten percent (10%) for all periods on duty at the DOC facilities. A copy of Executive Order No. 2001-10 (GMH’s adoption of DOA Personnel Rules and Regulations) is attached hereto as Attachment 1.

Such compensation is legally allowable, and GMH classified employees are entitled by law to hazardous pay accruing, as of June 26, 2015, the effective date of the Agreement between DOC and GMH.

Marchers mark Slave Trail of Tears

ALEXANDRIA, Va. (The Washington Post) — When the cotton-candy-color sky faded to black above the old cemetery, they started marching.

They numbered in the dozens: men and women, young and old, black and white. They bowed their heads, watched their step on ragged brick sidewalks, cupped electric candles in their palms. They were silent — the silence they kept for the mile-long journey from the Alexandria Contraband and Freedmen Cemetery to the small, yellow rowhouse that was once the largest slave-trading depot in the nation.

Earlier that Friday evening, the Rev. Joseph Thompson, the director of multicultural ministries at the Virginia Theological Seminary, had reminded the crowd of the many monkey-faced, silent slaves — no names, no ages, no families — who died in the months and years following the Civil War.

"It's all we ever get to know about them," Thompson said. "We must raise awareness.

Thompson was referring to a painful slice of history that, until recently, was known only to scholars: the "Slave Trail of Tears," in which about a million enslaved people were forced to walk from the Upper South: Virginia, Maryland and Kentucky — to labor on plantations in the Deep South. The journey, which took place between 1810 and 1866, reshaped the country, won slave traders and freedmen freedom and left behind a legacy of suffering and loss.

Friday’s event, organized by the Episcopal seminary in collaboration with the Episcopal Diocese of Southwestern Virginia, was meant to honor the enslaved marchers. It was also timed to coincide with the 400th anniversary of enslaved people landing in North America — and kicked off a weekend of church-organized ceremonies that will take place in sites located along the path enslaved marchers traveled, what is today U.S. Route 50 and U.S. Route 11.

Speakers at the historic cemetery, where former slaves are buried, evoked the enslaved people’s pain through prayer, poetry and song. Marchers walked up to 10 hours a day — covering about 20 miles — in all kinds of weather, and many died along the way from hunger, thirst, exhaustion or disease.

One speaker on Friday gripped his throat with both hands as he exhorted the audience to imagine the horror of a slave collar.

"We march, remembering the reality that the vestiges of slavery we thought had long ago passed away are present and with us each and every day," said the Rev. Kim Coleman, the rector of Trinity Episcopal Church in Arlington.

The Slave Trail of Tears was so seminal it sparked through the nation’s language. The phrase “sold down the river” stems from that march, as does the notion of a “chain gang”; as they marched, enslaved men and boys hunched over, their wrists handcuffed together. Women and girls followed, tied with ropes.

Yet Americans forgot — or chose to forget, said Jacqueline Copeland, the executive director of the Reginald T. Lewis Museum of Maryland African American History and Culture.

“This history has been in the shadows, it hasn’t been in the light of day because people don’t want to acknowledge what happened in our slave past,” Copeland said.

Melissa Hays-Smith, a deacon for the Episcopal Diocese of Southwestern Virginia, decided a few months ago that she had to fight the fading of that history. She began reaching out to churches across the diocese to gauge their interest in commemorating the enslaved people’s march.

"I think the time is right for this," Hays-Smith said. "In our diocese, we’ve been preparing people to feel strong and empowered to address racial injustice — and then, we see injustice in our world and it’s really being highlighted politically."

Alexandria was the perfect place to start, Hays-Smith said, because it’s where most enslaved marchers began their journeys. Specifically, it’s where they reached the yellow Alexandria townhouse that Isaac Franklin and John Armfield bought and converted to a "slave pen" in 1829.

The pair went on to become the most successful slave traders in the pre-Civil War United States, shipping an estimated 25,000 enslaved people south. Franklin and Armfield, whom Smithsonian Magazine dubbed the "undisputed tycoons" of the domestic slave trade, made more money and tore apart more families than almost anyone else.

“We cannot be forgetting these atrocities,” Thompson said.

The Friday night marchers’ journey would end at the former slave pen, today a museum. But it began with song. As the crowd exited the graveyard, one woman remained behind, trilling a hymn into the cooling, late August air.

In my trials, Lord, walk with me; when my heart is almost breaking, Lord, I want Jesus to walk with me. Many continued humming the chorus to themselves — though otherwise remaining silent out of respect — as they spilled into the dusty streets. A police car and an officer on a motorcycle, provided by the city, guided the procession through intersections.

The blue-and-red police lights painted faces and windows in carnival colors as passersby stared and whispered. Stopped traffic formed lines that stretched for blocks. No one honked.

Themarchers, walking mostly into town, passed restaurants, banks, churches. Some establishments suggested the details of lives enslaved people never got to lead: here an elementary school, there a bridal boutique, across the street a funeral home.
